

„Reduced penetrance in hereditary movement disorders: Elucidating mechanisms of endogenous disease protection“

“Hope is not the conviction that something will turn out well but the certainty that something makes sense, regardless of how it turns out.”

Vaclav Havel

reduced penetrance CONFERENCE.

2018

Conference Co-Chairs: Christine Klein, Frank Kaiser

10-11 December, 2018 / Lübeck, Germany

10 Distinguished Speakers & Roundtable Discussion

SPEAKERS

Jan Aasly

Norwegian University of Science and Technology, NO

Daniela Berg

Universitätsklinikum Schleswig-Holstein, DE

Matt Farrer

The University of British Columbia, CA

Andreas Hermann

German Center for Neurodegenerative Diseases, DE

Robin Hiesinger

Free University of Berlin, DE

Dimitri Krainc

Northwestern University, US

Alastair Noyce

Queen Mary University of London, UK

Constantin Polychronakos

McGill University Health Centre, CA

Patrik Verstreken

VIB & KU Leuven Center for Brain & Disease Research, BE

Richard Youle

Porter Neuroscience Research Center, US

Registration:

Registration closes 15 November, 2018

Visit us: www.reducedpenetranceconference.com

Inquiries:

michaela.trilck@neuro.uni-luebeck.de katja.herrmannmalzahn@neuro.uni-luebeck.de

Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel

UNIVERSITÉ DU
LUXEMBOURG

